About Me

Dr. Toluwani Akaehomen (Dr. Phenomenal) is a leadership catalyst, keynote speaker, facilitator, and business enterprise development coach. I empower purpose-driven individuals and organisations to unlock potential, align passion with performance, and lead with authenticity and impact.

I am the Lead Consultant at Vantage Dymensions Leadership and People Development, where I specialise in leadership and organisational transformation. I also serve as the Founder and Director of Programmes at Roegate Institute for Leadership, Management and Research, and the visionary founder of HergenuityAfrika, Ireland's first entrepreneurship and enterprise platform for women of Black and immigrant backgrounds.

In 2024, I ran as a local election candidate, driven by a commitment to inclusive leadership and civic transformation. I currently serve on several boards and advisory committees, where I contribute to advancing equity, leadership development, and community empowerment.

Through drphenomenal.com, I offer coaching, keynotes, and thought leadership content, and I lead The Phenomenal Collective — a thriving global community of leaders and changemakers.

Section 2: Beyond the Work

Beyond my professional roles, I am proudly grounded in faith and family. I'm the wife of a wonderful, spirit-filled man whose unwavering support strengthens my mission. I'm also the grateful mother of three brilliant adult children and one incredible, soccer-talented teenager who keeps me grounded and inspired.

Section 3: Let's Work Together

Whether I'm on stage, in a coaching session, or serving in my community, I lead with purpose and help others do the same.

Let's connect to spark transformation.
